Lunch & Learn

How Animals Can Help YOU!

Friday, September 17th

11:30 am—1:00 pm

Featured Presenter
Ellen Griffin

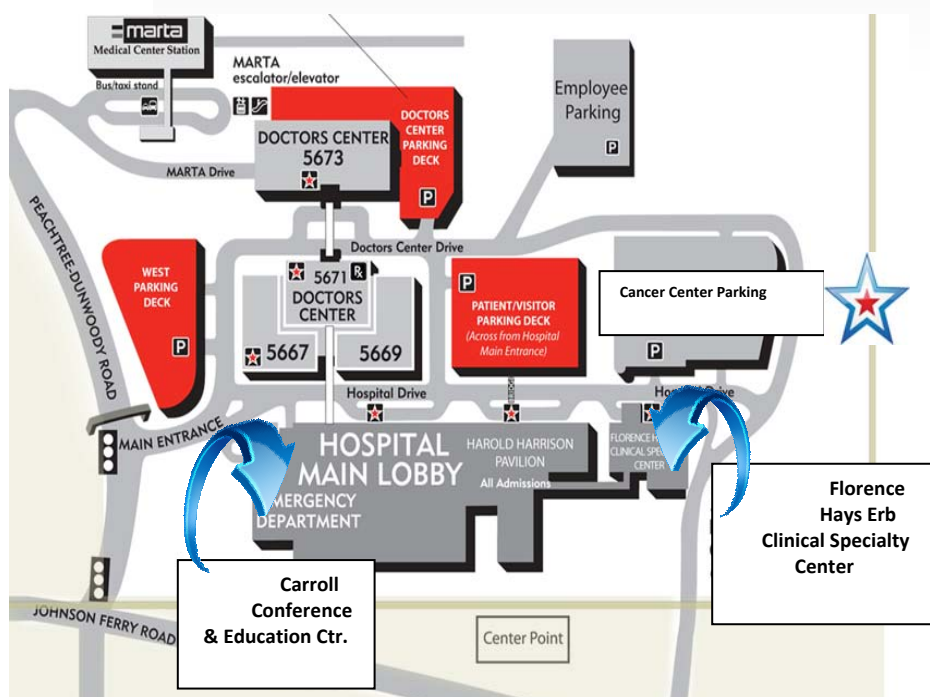

Have you ever wondered why you feel better when you are around your pets? Join us as Ellen Griffin introduces pet therapy as a method to utilize when coping with the stresses of life. Research has shown that to be around pets, even fish in a tank, can reduce blood pressure and increase satisfaction with life. Even if you do not own a pet, Ellen will provide insight into this unique form of therapy.

A light lunch is provided.

Please RSVP by Tuesday, September 14th

call: 678-843-5051

The "Lunch & Learn" will take place in the Carroll Conference & Education Center, Classrooms 1 & 2 - located on the ground floor of the Hospital just past the cafeteria.

FREE Parking: For "Lunch & Learn" programs, please park in the Cancer Center parking deck – immediately across from the Florence Hays Erb Clinical Specialty Center.

When you arrive, pull up to the gate and use the intercom to tell security that you are here for a "cancer center event". The gate will be lifted. Parking will be free in the deck while you are attending the meeting.

Lunch & Learn programs are FREE.
